

Cookies Policy

Updated: August 1, 2018

This site, like many others, uses small files called cookies to help us customize your experience. Find out more about cookies and how you can control them.

This page contains information on what 'cookies' are, the cookies used by the NetRoadshow website and how to switch cookies off in your browser. If it does not provide the information you were looking for, or you have any further questions about the use of cookies on the NetRoadshow website, please email sales@netroadshow.com.

What are 'cookies'?

'Cookies' are small text files that are stored by the browser on your computer or mobile device. They allow websites to store things like user preferences. You can think of cookies as providing a 'memory' for the website, so that it can recognize you when you come back and respond appropriately.

How does NetRoadshow's website use cookies?

NetRoadshow uses cookies to store your email address and first name in order to identify you when you sign-in to our site. This allows us to remember your email address when you return so you don't have to enter it again.

How do I turn cookies off?

It is possible to stop your browser accepting cookies, or to stop it accepting cookies from a particular website. All modern browsers allow you to change your cookie settings. You can find these settings in the 'options' or 'preferences' menu of your browser. Please use the 'Help' option in your browser for more details.
